(C-2)

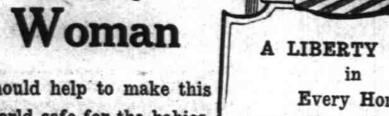

The peculiar coloring in the globe of this lamp combines in such a manner with the yellow gleam of the filament, so as completely to neutralize the glare and to throw off a light as pure as daylight. It is unusually powerful and economical, giving more candlepower per watt than any other light. It is very easy on the eyes, and makes an ideal light for reading.

Dr. Dewey Powell Talks to Local Branch on Rotarians' Work in War

On a tour of inspection, which incilentally is his initial trip to the islands, Dr. Dewey Powell of Stockton, California, governor of the thirteenth district of the International Association of Rotary clubs, arrived in Honoiulu yesterday. He is accompanied by Mrs. Fowell and the couple will remain here a week. They leave for a visit to Hilo and the Volcano Saturday. Dr. Powell, governor of the largest geographical district of the Rotary club organization, is down here to forge a stronger link between the coast clubs and the local chapter. The thirteenth district includes clubs in New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, California and Hawaii. Dr. Postell has no special business to attend to, but is merely carrying the good wishes of the coast clubs to the Honolulu Rotarians. The visiting Rotarian addressed the Honolulu club this noon at a luncheon in the Young hotel. His subject was a patriotic address, "Rotaries Work in Time of War." Prior to the luncheon reception was held in the lobby of the hotel in honor of Dr. Powell. Dr. Powell is greatly pleased with Honolulu. This is his first trip here and it has made a great impression on "The island is wonderful," he said, "but the hospitality of the people cannot be beaten."

Escorted by Major Charles Mettler Dr. Powell will make a flying trip to Schofield this afternoon. This evening a poi supper is being given in the visitor's honor by the Rotarians a: the home of President Watkins at Niu.

LETTING PEOPLE KNOW

THE advertising of the Army and Navy I Field Comfort Committee, briefly noted in Printers' Ink last week, is bringing in returns at the rate of $1000 a day. There has been no falling off thus far in the daily return. The page advertisement appeared in two Sunday papers on August 26 and three Evening papers of the following day.

The campaign is noteworthy because it relies chiefly on spaid advertising for its support.

The funds for the space that has been used thus far were contributed by outsiders especially for that purpose and $3000 additional is already on hand for the extension of the campaign to other cities. Moreover, C. Donald Fox, the executive secretary, has devised a plan for future advertising that will render the committee partially independent of the solicitation of large contributions for advertising. Mr. Fox has other plans under way for adding to the fund.

The important feature, however, to Printers' Ink readers, is that the success of the undertaking is largely due to advertising, for which cash is paid, and that the public is going to be asked to contribute toward this advertising.

This points the lesson that the committee believes in advertising as an economy and that it is of the opinion that the public does, also.-Printers' Ink.

Paid Publicity Will Do It.
